Security Awareness for Business Professionals

Information Security and Assurance is a major part of the thought process for all organisations.

Many businesses have now got well trained and capable in house security and assurance teams with wide remits and many have also tried to address the awareness of users on the widest scale—choosing good passwords, staying vigilant, following acceptable use policies etc.

The group that has traditionally been missed are the business professionals in the other functional areas of an organisation who have their specialist roles to undertake; but also play a key role in ensuring the security of information, processes and systems within the business.

Who

Adviza has developed a unique set of half-day training briefings specifically targeted at professionals in the following business areas:

- Project Management;
- Human Resources;
- Information Technology;
- Quality/Audit;
- Procurement.

Building a Secure Culture

No one would expect a detailed knowledge of security, assurance, compliance and continuity across these business areas, any more than one would expect a security analyst or manager to be an expert in HR or procurement.

However, all these business areas have a key role to play in ensuring information systems are safeguarded.

Adviza believes that understanding this is a vital first step to creating a more secure and resilience business culture.

Course Structure

Adviza offers a half day overview briefing. The brief, snappy delivery means that it is well suited to small groups on your site without having to mix business disciplines and diluting the specific messages.

Course Overview

The courses cover:

- General Information security awareness;
- A specific module tailored to the need of the individual business area;
- A summary, quiz and Q & A.

Key Benefits

- Targeted awareness briefing focussed at the needs and activities of specific and focussed business areas.
- High level understanding of the concepts but also of the role played by the delegates' own departments.
- Fun and informative format with interactivity and audience input welcomed.
- Effective and un-intrusive especially suitable for busy professionals.

Charges

Adviza charges as follows:

- Any one ½-day module to a specified group £795;
- Any two ½-day modules to two specified groups on the same day..... £1,050.

All prices are exclusive of VAT and expenses, with each morning / afternoon session limited to 12 delegates.
